2020

- Winter/Spring Edition -

ACADEMY

The Finger Lakes Boating Museum (FLBM) is a not-for-profit 501(c)(3) corporation chartered by the New York State Education Department. The museum was founded to preserve and share the fascinating history of the Finger Lakes boating industry and the pivotal role it has played in the development of the region and beyond.

The Finger Lakes Boating Museum's Academy (FLBA) is the umbrella entity that covers all of FLBM's educational activities offered to the public: courses, lectures, demonstrations, workshops, youth programs, on water programs, and special events.

FLBA is the primary educational institution around Finger Lakes boating by providing regularly scheduled and diverse program offerings and venues to the community. Please join us in learning more about the history and skills involved in our outstanding boating heritage!

Visit FLBM.org or call (607) 569 - 2222 for more information.

LOOK TO THE FUTURE

Since opening its doors in 2014, the Finger Lakes Boating Museum (FLBM) has continued to grow and develop both its exhibits and programs.

After acquiring the former Taylor Wine Company property, FLBM has made a great effort to provide a quality Museum experience while carefully renovating exhibit and work space as resources become available.

Continually expanding exhibits and educational programs is seen as part of FLBM's mission. By utilizing the boating heritage and existing boat building skills of the region, the museum has so much to share!

FLBM operates primarily on memberships and donations, grants, and volunteer power. Strong support from the community has been, and continues to be, an essential ingredient in the museum's success.

Boat restoration and outboard motor restoration teaching capacity has been significantly expanded with the addition of the Al Wahlig Education Center. With your support the Finger Lakes Boating Museum is becoming a true destination for fun and learning!

Getting involved is easy! Visit the museum, become a member, take a course or a workshop, volunteer, donate... find out more at flbm.org.

The first part of the paper discusses the importance of understanding the cultural context of the research. It highlights the need for researchers to be sensitive to the values and beliefs of the communities they are studying. This is particularly important in the field of education, where cultural differences can significantly impact learning outcomes. The paper then moves on to discuss the challenges of conducting research in culturally diverse settings. It notes that researchers often face difficulties in establishing rapport with participants and in interpreting their responses. To address these challenges, the paper suggests several strategies, including the use of local informants and the development of culturally appropriate research instruments. The final part of the paper discusses the importance of ethical considerations in cross-cultural research. It emphasizes the need for researchers to obtain informed consent from participants and to ensure that their research does not cause harm or exploitation. The paper concludes by noting that while cross-cultural research is a complex and challenging endeavor, it is also a highly rewarding one that can lead to a deeper understanding of human behavior and culture.
